

Self-Arranged Funerals

We understand that through personal choice not everyone wants to use the services of a funeral director, you may feel strong enough to undertake arranging every aspect of the funeral yourself. Or you may have employed a non-local company to provide you with some of your funeral requirements. There are many resources we have as local funeral directors that may not be easily available to you and your family when you need them. We are happy to help and provide just the equipment or services you may require at this time. We have prepared a brief overview of services which we are asked to assist with on a regular basis, but we are willing to quote for almost any of our services, facilities, or equipment on an individual basis.
